A Complete Surprise.

At his home, in Oakley township, on November 25th, a large number of people met to celebrate the sixtieth birthday of Mr. James Jackson. When he returned home from his work at noon, he was completely surprised to find the house crowded with friends and relatives. More than seventy people were present, among whom were Rev. Fredmore, of Monticello, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, of Casner, Mr. and Mrs. Sizeland, of Long Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hunsley and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Miller, of Cicero, Mr. and Mrs. George Hunsley and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Br. of Decatur, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Hunsley, of Harrisburg. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Smith, of Oakley, and Mr. and Mrs. Burke, of Lamar, Missouri, sent regrets. His relatives presented him with a large easy chair; Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Ross, a carving knife and fork; Mr. and Mrs. Sizeland, a nice cup and saucer, which was filled with coffee and handed to him at dinner. All came with well-filled baskets and contributed to the spreading of a bounteous feast, which when spread, reminded all present that it was really Thanksgiving day. The day was highly enjoyed, and will be remembered long by all that were present. ONE THAT WAS THERE.

A Family Reunion.

We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, which will be of interest to friends in this county. W. A. Cochran resides in Macon township:

The residence of John M. Cochran, of Glendale, was the scene of an interesting family gathering on Thanksgiving day. Every one of the sons and daughters, nine in number, was present—the first time the circle of the old homestead has been complete for upwards of thirty years. Mr. Cochran, as a member of his father's household, settled upon the lands which he now tills nearly three-quarters of a century ago. There he lived a virtuous, temperate, and devoted life, to which he was only equalled by a somewhat serious attack of sickness during last summer, from which he has happily and wholly recovered. The gathering of the children was as usual, a happy occasion for the aged father and mother, the more touching, the more comfortable, in the fact that this time there was no absent one. The roll showed the following family list: John M. Cochran, the father, aged seventy-seven; and Martha J. Cochran, the mother, aged seventy-two. William A. Cochran, Macon county, Illinois; Joseph M. Cochran, Macon county, Illinois; Samuel D. Cochran, Jr., Glendale, Ohio; Samuel D. Cochran, Jr., Cincinnati; John M. Cochran, Cincinnati; Jas. Marion Cochran, Ramble, Kansas; daughters: Mrs. W. H. James, Springfield, Ohio; Mrs. Rebecca J. Cochran, and Miss Nancy A. Cochran, Glendale, Ohio. To the list may be added the names of Mrs. Dora W. Cochran, who was married to the father before the first child was born. That a family scattered about like this, should after the lapse of so many years, meet as a large number at a Thanksgiving feast is very remarkable.

Arrests.

—Charles Carr ate Thanksgiving turkey at home.

—Miss Florence Brown returned to school at Bethany Monday.

—Two of Deatur's tennes spent vacation with Miss Lou Garver.

—The proceeds of the G. A. R. oyster supper last Thursday evening amounted to sixty-two dollars.

—Mr. P. J. Patterson, of Sullivan, spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother, J. W., returning home on Monday.

—George Wilson breathes the air of Humboldt, Kansas, at present. He is visiting relatives and a "dear friend" at that place.

—Mr. A. Manes and Miss Maggie Dickey will be married to-night, at the residence of the bride's parents, Rev. J. N. Hogg, of Bethany, will officiate.

—Mr. Geo. W. Chowchew has bought the store of James Barnett, at Newburg. He will build a store room adjoining Dr. Whitaker's office on the west in Argenta and move his goods to the same.

—Dr. Carr, who has been visiting the Illinois Industrial university at Champaign, is very highly pleased with the educational advantages attained there. He thinks it is the college at which to get real knowledge.

Blue Mound Surprise Party.

Frederick A. Kroniker is a well-to-do farmer who resides a mile and a half south of Blue Mound, on one of the best-kept and handsomest farms in Macon county. He is one of those farmers who always has a place for everything and everything in its place. His home is a neat and comfortable one, and his surroundings pleasant.

He was fifty-five years old on Tuesday, and it seemed a fitting occasion for his neighbors and friends to give him a surprise party. Mr. Solomon Miller is a near neighbor, and his family and Mrs. Kroniker quietly informed the neighbors of their intention.

About dusk the neighbors began to arrive, and the host thought it a little odd at first that so many should drop in on that particular evening, nor did he realize the situation until the cornet band arrived from Blue Mound and began a serenade. Then the fact of its being his birthday dawned upon his mind.

Although it was a dark and rather inclement evening, yet the house was soon crowded with friends and neighbors, and such a jolly good time as everybody had, is seldom witnessed. A magnificent supper was served, nor did the guests depart until a late hour, all feeling that more such meetings would enhance the pleasures of rural life.

WOMEN
 The Boston Globe warns its readers that it is going to print some "parlor games." We trust the old-fashioned game of counting will not be overlooked. These were at our time considered the most popular games.

Mr. BLAINE is said to be sharpening his knife for Senator Edmunds, because of his apathy in the late campaign. Indeed, it is generally believed that he intends in future to make things exceedingly unpleasant for all who are inclined to mugwompery.

The New York World says: "What a public blessing it would be if, looking at the grave of a pure, true and able man like Thomas A. Hendricks, the whole American press would record a resolve to stop that reckless partisan abuse of prominent characters which is the blot of our politics."

The New York Sun was never a great admirer of the late vice-presidential leadership, but it now says of him: There has been a good deal of foolish talk in Republican and mugwump journals about Mr. Hendricks' "intense partisanship." The American people are intense partisans, and they honor Mr. Hendricks because, and not in spite of the fact that he was an intense partisan. To say that, is merely saying that he was an intense American.

The Peoria Transcript truthfully says: People who are fond of quoting that the American people form a nation of snobs, and that all bow down and worship the golden calf; that wealth is a man's only friend, and secures his entry into the hearts and homes of the purest and best, would do well to stop and reflect why there should be such a difference at the funerals of Senator Sharon and Thomas A. Hendricks.

The Post-Dispatch says: "Fear of radicalism, church disestablishment and democracy is not alone accountable for the liberal reverse in England. Owing to England's location and her vast colonial interests, her foreign policy takes precedence of nearly everything else in her elections. That was Gladstone's weakest point. The unfortunate Egyptian and Sudan episodes, and the trucking to Russia in the Afghan affair, were as disconcerting to the English masses as the jingoism of Beaconsfield was popular. The prompt change in the attitude of Russia on the Afghan question as soon as a tory premier to hold the matter was not lost on the people, and the annexation of Burma has come in time to have a telling effect on the pending elections."

"Well, madam," said a fashionable physician to a wealthy lady patient, "if you don't like my prescriptions, perhaps you had better try Parker's Tonic, or some other quick stuff." "You don't mean it, Doctor," she answered, "but your advice may be good for all that. Sometimes what you call 'quick stuff' is the best and most scientific medicine after all." She got a bottle of Parker's Tonic and it cured her of neuritis arising from disordered stomach and nerves. She told her friends and now they all keep a doctorial home in the form of Parker's Tonic.

REVOLUTION IN MEXICO.
 Nuevo Leon Without a Governor and Desperate Fighting in Prospect.
 MEXICO, Dec. 2.—The situation between the revolutionists and the Government party is becoming more complicated. Fears are entertained that if the National Government does not speedily send aid to the civil authorities the revolution will assume such proportions that all Northern Mexico will ultimately be drawn into it.

Last Sunday night, Acting Governor Segura, with a guard of one hundred men, was attacked in the suburbs by six hundred revolutionists. The guards became panic-stricken at the odds against them and about half their number deserted, fleeing into the mountains. The remainder stood their ground for a short time, but were finally routed, retreating southward for the State capital, Nuevo Leon, and Coahuila. The revolutionists lost five killed and ten wounded in the fight. The guards lost but two men. The Governor and such of his followers that did not desert made their escape to Coahuila, whence they await orders from the Federal Government. This State is now practically without a Governor. The revolutionists have gained a decided victory, and the movement is becoming popular among the people.

Roberts Attack the Peruvian Capital.
 NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The following dispatch was received from Lima yesterday: General Caceres is making an attack on the palace, apparently from the direction of the river Supe. All day yesterday, sharp fighting was going on from the palace and its surroundings, and occasionally the firing of his guns was heard. The engagement has not yet become general, but the Peruvians are reported to have a few persons who are anxious to witness the proceedings. At 9:51 o'clock this morning, firing was again from the L and Mavaleros tower. All railroad trains and other traffic are suspended.

Business Men Embarrassed.

London, Dec. 2.—A summary of the returns from the Parliamentary elections thus far held shows that 178 Liberals, 170 Conservatives and 15 Parliaments have been returned. A Conservative gain of eight seats. The Permittive vote in Dublin was immense. The Nationalists polled 23,772 votes against 4,774 for the Conservatives and 4,774 for the Liberals. By Friday almost all of the counties will have voted, but the balance between the parties continues so close that it is doubtful if the ultimate result can be known by that time.
